PAINTLESS DENT REPAIR

Keep Your Vehicle Looking New

People choose vehicles for several reasons. Gas mileage may be a factor, as well as cost of ownership or the climate in your area. But chances are, the way the vehicle looked played a part in your decision to purchase. Shiny paint, and smooth lines and contours are part of what make vehicles stand out.

Unfortunately, all too often, someone walks out of the grocery store or shopping mall only to find a dent or ding in their vehicle that wasn't there before. Rogue shopping carts or neighboring car doors are common, unavoidable causes. You may not know exactly when or how it appeared, but you want it repaired, without the high cost or hassle.

The Paintless Dent Repair process can get you back the look you love!

What is Paintless Dent Repair?

Paintless Dent Repair (PDR) is a process that uses specialized tools to gently push/pull dented metal on your motor vehicle back to its original form. This procedure permanently removes door dings and minor dents without harming the vehicle's factory finish. Most small dents and dings can be removed using the PDR process.
